Data Science

April 17, 2020 | 9AM–5PM | Lake Huron Rm, MSU Union

The 2020 Women+ Data Science Symposium, jointly organized by the Michigan State University (MSU) and the University of Michigan (U-M) will take place on April 17 at MSU. We invite abstract submissions for talks and poster presentations.

The symposium provides a platform for all practicing and aspiring data scientists, but especially women and gender minority participants, to discuss cutting-edge research, explore resources for research and career advancement, and network with other attendees. Everyone is welcome to contribute and attend.

We invite abstracts in the following areas:

- Theoretical foundations
- Methodology and tools
- Real-world applications in any research domain
- Ethics, fairness, and societal impact
- Emerging research areas
